The screenshot shows the 'WN Polls' interface. At the top, it says 'WN Polls' and 'Logged in as jan_telenor (Telenor Group) Logout'. Below that is a navigation link '< Back to Presentation Test presentation'. The main heading is 'Comments on Test presentation'. There are two filter sections: 'Filter by Poll:' with a dropdown menu and a 'Show hidden comments' checkbox, and 'Filter by rating:' with a range from 0 to 5. Below the filters is a 'Sort:' section with options for 'Default', 'Rating ↑', and 'Rating ↓'. The main content is divided into two columns. The left column, titled 'All Comments', lists several comments with their ratings (stars) and author names. The first comment is highlighted in green, indicating it is the active message. The right column, titled 'Comments Playlist', shows a single comment with a play button and a right arrow, indicating it is ready to be played.

To send the message to the screen, simply press the play button. If there are more messages in the playlist the screen toggles between the active message. Messages that have been played are marked in green and active is marked in blue.

The output screen is just a webpage that can run in fullscreen connected via web socket.
